DYC Service Helps With Cruising Fun

What a pleasure to know and follow the fun of cruising with DYC boaters!

We have enjoyed watching and helping as Doyle and Christy M. prepared their Bruno-Stillman Sport Cruiser 35', 'Lady Luck' for the adventures ahead. She is a Downeast style, aka lobster boat with sweet lines and practicality built in.

“Thanks to the assistance and patience of the DYC team, she has a freshly rebuilt Cat 3208 that has performed magnificently. Nine days running plus two days in Annapolis, four day hurricane hold in Cape May and one day in Atlantic City,” shared Captain Doyle.

It has been over a month since Captain Doyle, Christy- navigator, cook, Admiral- home port Alaska plus Christy's brother Ron-Oregon farmer, electrician, weatherman, Jack-of-all-trades- departed Deltaville Yachting Center and are now cruising in New York.

Jon and Jan, on their President Trawler 42', 'Journey' joined Doyle, Christy and Ron at DYC and departed together to enjoy adventure, sunsets and new cruising grounds. ↓

DYC Boatel Manager Finds Success Fishing

Shares His Time With Valued Customers

James Morris, DYC Boatel and Boatyard Manager, has been helping boaters have fun for the past 7 years. Along the way, he has become a fantastic fisherman himself and has fished with a number of DYC boatel and service customers.

James owns a Center Console, Wellcraft 18, which he keeps nicely in the DYC Boatel. He grew up with buddies who fished and started freshwater fishing with these friends when he was 16 years old. In the last six years, James has branched out into saltwater fishing.

Watching DYC boaters going out, having fun and catching fish, James thought, "I need to do this myself". He really enjoys all the boaters around DYC, but when asked who has inspired him the most, he said quickly, "Bobby and Judy B.- they came almost every day to enjoy their boat and fish. They became like 2nd grandparents to me. I wanted to be like them and enjoy the water the way they did." (Recently Bobby B. passed on to a Heavenly fishing area, so Judy gets a lot of attention when she comes to DYC.)

James fishes Sunrise to Sunset, tide dependent. And says, "I'd rather be on the water than on the couch. It's not that expensive, because I usually invite friends who pay for the gas, bait and food, while I provide the boat and captain it."

"I love to take friends fishing and see them have fun reeling in the fish. All of these friends do things for me, so this is my way of sharing with them. One of the funniest things happened just this week, when a friend I took out got a big one and while trying to get it in the boat, went head first, straight into the water, toward the fish. Of course, I made sure he was not hurt....and then I lost it, laughing! It was so funny to watch happen."

When asked about his best catches, James said, "When I was 18 years old fishing freshwater, there was a 8.5 lb. Bass I caught in a private pond. Then recently in saltwater, I caught a 65 lb. 54" Red Drum- Citation fish."

No fisherman or woman wants to tell their favorite fishing spot, but James says, "Give the Corrotoman River a try." ↓

Annapolis Boat Shows 2023

Update On 'Wayward Wind' Refit

MINDY & GALEN S. STILL SMILING!

Galen & Mindy S., S/V 'Wayward Wind', have been working steadily to complete the refit. Per Galen "Since our last update, early this year, we have finished building our 14' bowsprit, replaced the main mast compression post, installed a new Beta 70 HP engine and upgraded 8/14 seacocks. We also rebuilt our refrigerator and have new standing rigging ready to connect as soon as we get our masts painted. We still have a few more months of work before we head back out to sea and 'Wayward Wind' becomes our floating home again 😊".

S/V WAYWARD WIND WORK CONTINUES

20th Annual Va. Clean Waterways Shoreline Work Day

On September 30th, following Orphelia's visit to Deltaville, Hunter Inge coordinated the 20th shoreline clean up day at DYC.

LIVING SHORELINE AT DYC

SPECIAL THANKS TO MR. BOWLES, WHO CAME FROM RICHMOND TO HELP!

The purpose of this Clean Waterways/Ocean Conservancy project is twofold. One objective is a careful cleanup of the Living Shoreline between C & D docks at DYC. This shoreline was totally eroding in 2003 and the creek was slowly eating into the picnic area. Friends of the Rappahannock, Va. Department of Natural Resources (DGIF) along with DYC boaters worked to install the natural boom log of palm bark, as well as planted hundreds of native grass plugs provided by Hammertime Marine. In 2023, the shoreline grasses are thick and hopefully hold back the waves and tides sent by Tropical Storm Orphelia.

The 2nd purpose of Va. Clean Waterways clean up is to carefully document exactly what is found and report it to the Va. Clean Waterway organization, which coordinates with Ocean Conservancy to educate the public on how our consumer habits affect the inland and coastal shorelines.

You will notice ads showing certain litter. Those ads are driven by the data collected around the U.S. via Clean Waterways/Ocean Conservancy cleanup days.

Thank you, Hunter Inge, for continuing this project at DYC. ↓
